State Names 3 Sources Of The Contamination

Clark's brook is polluted.

That is the opinion of C. I. Sterling Jr., state deputy commissioner of public health, department of environmental sanitation. Exhaustive tests of the water were made by his department on the request of the board of selectmen.

The written report of the state department substantiated charges by Mrs. Wendell Hopkins, 12 Chester st. She complained about the brook some time ago and it was after her charges that the request for a test was made.

Specifies Property

The letter, in part, said, "The brook is subject to pollution from cesspool drainage" from a residence named in the letter; "possibly from sink drainage" from

Ask Lowell Jct. Interchange For New Route 28

An interchange at Lowell junction, on new Route 28, with a service road, has been recommended to the state by the board of selectmen.

They further suggested that no dead-ended streets be left in the town and that River rd. be a throughway. They also listed other interchanges, satisfactory to them and to a majority of persons at a public hearing, as Lowell st. (Route 133) and the proposed Route 110.

Many Not Satisfied

The selectmen's letter called attention to a series of letters from citizens, civic organizations and industries expressing dissatisfaction with some of the state's proposals. Selectmen said they had compiled the suggestions contained in these letters plus the sentiments of a June 20 (Continued on Page 16)

Pet Show Draws Large Audience

A large audience of friends and parents attended the annual pet show for the children of the Shawsheen playground, which was held July 21.

This year, little Michael Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sullivan of Kenilworth st., stole the show with his two well trained, fluffy white rabbits. The proud owner had his pets on a leash and the animals behaved like a pair of friendly dogs. For this accomplishment, Michael was awarded first prize for his pets in the unusual class and also was awarded the gold ribbon as grand prize of the show. Elaine Christoderri won second prize in this class with her colorful parakeet and Paula Campagna won third with her puppy.

In the cat class, a mother cat nestled comfortably in a laundry cart with her three young kittens, only one week old, won the blue ribbon for her owner, Susan Miller. Cynthia Turton won second prize in this group with her beautiful angora cat and Karen Ingenthron was third with her cat.

In the best dressed pet class, Joanne Blamire won first prize with her cat, which was dressed in a colorful hat and shirt. Barbara Santuccio and Jean Blamire tied for second place with their decorated bowls of gold fish. A scotty, dressed in wide plaid ribbon, owned by Cynthia Turton, won third prize.

The judges for the event were Mrs. Moen Smith and Mrs. Mason Arnold.

The special event for this week will be a combined hobby and doll show and will begin this morning at 10:30.

CAIRNS - PARISEAU

Miss Arlene M. Pariseau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Pariseau, 34 Chandler rd., became the bride of George Richard Cairns Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George Cairns, 28 Corbett rd., at a 4 o'clock ceremony July 16 in St. Augustine's church. The Rev. Henry B. Syvinski, O.S.A. officiated before an altar arranged with white, pink and orchid gladioli. James Sheard was soloist and Miss Mary Lanigan presided at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Elizabethan gown of white imported silk fashioned with sweetheart neckline, banded with iridescent sequins and pearls, fitted bodice, and bouffant skirt that ended in a chapel length train. A petal effect cap trimmed with sequins and pearls held her fingertip veil of illusion. She carried an arrangement of white Vanda orchids, stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Edward Simpson, sister of the bridegroom, as matron of honor, chose blue crystalette. The bridesmaids, the Misses Beverly Kimball of Westford, classmate of the bride; Kathleen Doyle, Margery Retelle and Sally McCullom wore crystalette in turquoise, pink, maize and light green. All wore flower wreaths on their hair and carried baskets of baby carnations and bachelor buttons with ivy.

S. J. DeSalvo of Andover served as best man and the ushers were Ronald Pariseau, brother of the bride; Raymond Doyle, cousin of the bride; Richard C. Hudgins and Edward Simpson, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception in the Andover Country club followed the ceremony with guests present from Maine, New Hampshire, Connecticut, Rhode Island and Florida.

Ford's sales gain last year was greater than the gains of all other cars combined!

And here's why:

People are finding out that Ford is worth more . . . worth more in styling . . . worth more in power . . . worth more in the pleasure it will bring you. No wonder Ford sales have skyrocketed 25% (a sales gain of 284,173 units) in a year when competitive makes barely held their own or sold fewer cars!

Take Ford's styling, for instance. Only Ford drew its styling from the years-ahead Thunderbird . . . so it's styled to stay in style. You also get a smoother Angle-Poised Ride and a host of other worth-more Ford features that add to your driving pleasure.

As for power . . . only Ford in its field has an advanced Y-block V-8! It has a deep block for smoother going . . . longer engine life! It also delivers Trigger-Torque power . . . instantaneous get-going power that lets you pass quicker, safer.

With all these fine-car advances (and more)—no wonder Ford holds onto its value for the time when you sell it, too!

And here's what we're doing to celebrate:

We're mighty happy over the sales success of our '55 Fords. And to show you how happy we really are, we're offering you Leadership Savings during our Ford Summer Bandwagon Sell-a-bration. Check Residence Of Pomp's Pond Swimmers Identification is being carefully checked at Pomp's pond.

The Recreation committee and Supervisor Donald D. Dunn have explained that only Andover residents may use the swimming facilities. Exceptions to the rule are guests of residents, when they are accompanied by the resident.

Mr. Dunn explained this week that a careful check on identity is being made, because the parking facilities are so crowded. The committee, he explained, does not want any resident to be kept from use of the swimming area because non-residents are crowding it.

He also stressed the requirement that any guest of an Andover resident must be accompanied by the resident each time they go to Pomp's.

with restrictions.

Seeks Reversal

Mr. Cyr asked the board to reverse its decision on the 44-acre tract, which is settled district, and to have a reason for the gravel pits available. The board had denied the request, saying that the gravel pits were a nuisance and that the land should be used for other purposes.

He also asked the board to consider the gravel pits as a nuisance and to have a reason for the gravel pits available. The board had denied the request, saying that the gravel pits were a nuisance and that the land should be used for other purposes.

THREE APPEAL GRAVEL PIT DECISIONS

with restrictions.

Seeks Reversal

Mr. Cyr asked the court to nullify a decision of the board not to grant a license for removal of sand, gravel and loam from land on the westerly side of Woburn st., northerly from the Andover-Wilmington line.

He also asked the court to void restrictions placed against a license to operate a pit for removal of gravel and sand, but not loam, on land south of the intersection of Rattlesnake Hill rd. and Old County rd., near Foster's pond.

Would Be Asset

In the first case, Cyr contends that the proposed gravel pit, in a 44-acre tract, is in a sparsely-settled district and that it will be to the advantage of the town to have a reasonable number of gravel pits available. The appeal board had denied the permit, stating their belief that noise, dust and other objectionable features could result. They also ruled the land to be in a single residential district and that a pit has never operated there before.

Claims Ruling Unfair

In the second case, Mr. Cyr said a ruling of the board that no material can be moved within 250 feet of the shore line of the pond is a hardship. A restriction, that all trucks carrying sand or gravel must stop before entering either road there, can't be enforced, Mr. Cyr stated. He said he has no authority over his customers' trucks.

Would Reopen Pit

The third appeal, by Barberian and Collins, concerns a denied permit to remove sand and gravel from land north of Andover st. in Ballardvale. The town as well as the board of appeals was named as respondent in their action, which included a petition for "declaratory relief".

They said they had planned to use an old gravel bank on the land, which would be a "Continuing, non-conforming use".

The board had ruled against the application, holding that the land is in a single residential district and that no such operations have been carried on there since 1934. Noise, vibration, dust and similar features were also cited by the board as reasons for their action.

Gravel pit applications caused considerable discussion before the appeal board, when public hearings were held. Many residents of Ballardvale appeared against various applications for pits in that area.

Possible Industrial Groups

(Third in a Series)

If the town really wants to begin industrial development, it must, obviously, have some type of group, commission or committee to do the work. Such a project, without a head, would be doomed to failure before it began.

The Industrial Development Commission is a possibility.

Created by state legislative act, the commission is somewhat confined in its work.

It may do research into industrial potential within the community and it may advertise the town's advantages.

It may not, however, spend any money for land to be used as an industrial park. Any money it does spend is regulated by law.

In the beginning of its life, it must also survive a certain amount of red tape.

In its wisdom, the legislature required each city and town to accept the enabling legislation before such a commission could be appointed.

Thus, a special town meeting would be required to accept the act before selectmen could make any appointments.

Recently, after once allowing the commission members to be elected, the legislature gave the appointive power to the selectmen. Some communities have disliked that arrangement, claiming the intrusion of politics.

The development commission, then, is an organization with very specific and limited duties outside of which it cannot go.

And it is a commission which, in some towns, has been criticized due to its appointed membership.

The private, non-profit corporation is another organizational possibility to handle industrial development.

Such a group would include businessmen, civic leaders and perhaps others, banded together in a corporation with the sole purpose of seeking industry for the community.

In many communities, this type of organization has been formed even though there is an industrial development commission in existence.

The corporation can solicit specific industry; may pay whatever money it can raise and wishes to spend for consultants, advertising, land purchase and development. It may buy and sell property or engage in any other activity included within its industry-seeking purpose clause in the corporation papers.

One such group was recently founded in a Merrimack Valley community. It has been selling shares of stock to finance a small industrial park.

Another has incorporated so that it can do business of that type if necessary but spends most of its time on individual solicitation of industry.

This type of organization is not under the direct or implied control of any local municipal office but does, of course, function under the corporation laws of Massachusetts.

If its membership does not include public officials concerned with planning, such as someone from the planning board, it certainly operates in complete harmony with such a board; and of course it cooperates in every way with town officials.

Marriages may be made in heaven, but man is responsible for the maintenance work. — Changing Times

Fun In The Water At Pomp's Sunday

The third water show of the season will take place at Pomp's pond Sunday at 2:30.

Aquatic antics by the lifeguards will include tandem swimming, twin swimming and a Slim Jim mystery swim.

There will be a kick board race for youngsters under eight; balloon race for those under six, in which the swimmer pushes the balloon with his head, hands behind his back; relay race for the eight to 12 group, using a towel instead of the stick used in land relays.

There also will be a pillow fight on a pole on the diving board, for boys 12 and over; a log rolling contest in which two persons sit on the log and try to roll each other off; and a jitterbug elimination contest on the raft, with those eliminated having to swim ashore.

Lifeguards are Donald Light, Paul Cronin, John Lucey, Tom Lawler and Jack Arabian.

In other Pomp's activity, there has been some interest in a water polo group, according to members of the staff. They ask that anyone interested contact Lifeguard Donald Light.

A large sign has been installed about 100 yards from the pond by the police department. It calls motorists' attention to "Children using roadway".

The board of public works has had brush cut away from the curve approaching the pond parking area.

All boats have received a new coat of paint and are in use, both for boating instruction and in the Red Cross class. Lifeguard Ralph Arabian is in charge of boating and all life saving equipment at the pond.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — July 1905

James M. May has purchased a lot of land in the Locke estate.

George A. Higgins has been appointed town clerk, pro-tem, by the selectmen during the illness of Town Clerk Abraham Marland. No other selectmen's business was transacted.

The social committee of the Y.P.S.C.E. of South church held a lawn party on the church green last evening. It was a financial and social success.

Herbert Philbrick is visiting his brother, Elmer, for a few days.

John L. Phillips and family are spending a few days vacation at Franklin, N.H.

A well-attended lawn meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Harry S. Wright on High st. Sunday. It was sponsored by the Second Advent church of Lawrence.

Warren K. Johnson and family are spending a few days at Hampton Beach.

Miss Nellie F. Farmer of the Townsman office is spending her vacation in Gloucester.

Dr. Melvin Page Burnham has been appointed acting superintendent of the New York state hospital for the treatment of incipient tuberculosis, located in Ray Brook, Adirondack mountains.

25 Years Ago — July 1930

It is expected that a contract for the repair of Union st. will be let by Sept. 1. The sewer line has already been finished. Town meeting voted $9500 for repair to the street if the state and county each agreed to spend an equal amount on it.

Over 600 were present at the third annual pet show at the playground. The most popular pets were chosen by the children's applause. Surprisingly, seven dogs and 21 cats preserved amicable relations during the contest.

Six tables of whist were enjoyed in G.A.R. hall Monday night. The Whist was sponsored by Ladies Auxiliary to Walter L. Raymond Camp III, Sons of Veterans.

Thousands saw the heroic rescue of Arthur W. Hall, 22 High st., last Sunday in Gloucester. Mr. Hall fell from a yacht on which he was a passenger. Two policemen dived into the water off a bridge and a civilian followed them. The four men were hauled to safety into a small boat. Mr. Hall remained in a Gloucester hospital until Thursday, as doctors feared complications.

Two gypsy women knocked at a West Andover door last week and asked a woman there if they might "bless" her pocketbook. After doing so, they took their leave in the direction of Lawrence, driving a touring car. The woman of the household looked in her pocketbook and found a $10 bill gone. Police are still trying to figure out how the bill was taken from the purse.

Over 150 men, women and children attended the picnic of Clan Johnston 185, O.S.C. and Auxiliary, 42, last Saturday in Salem Willows. A soccer game was the highlight of the day.

Several local boyscouts are on the staff of Camp Onway, the new camp of the North Essex Council.

10 Years Ago — July 1945

Francis J. Mooney, a private serving in the Army, has been appointed assistant postmaster, it was announced this week by Stephen A. Boland, postmaster. Pfc. Mooney was first appointed the postal service in 1936 and has worked in every department.

The Andover Servicemen's association will hold its annual carnival Aug. 23, 24 and 25, at the playstead. Walter Young is general chairman of the committee which is planning the affair. It is expected that the usual booths will be put up.

Court St. Monica, 783, Catholic Daughters of America, will sponsor a lawn card party Aug. 4 at the home of Anna M. Greeley, 7 Summer st. Refreshments will be served and members are requested to bring their own cards.

A "Take It or Leave It" show was presented at the Shawsheen playground last Friday night.

A Rockport town team beat the new Andover Town team, 2-1, Sunday. A misjudged fly ball, which allowed a runner to reach second, was the key to Rockport's second and winning run. The man on second finally was able to score on an infield hit.

The Ladies Auxiliary, 42, to Clan Johnston 185, O.S.C., entertained members of the auxiliaries of Lowell, Lawrence and Haverhill Thursday evening in the Square and Compass club hall.

A baseball team of veterans is being organized to take part in the Twilight league. Any discharged serviceman is invited to take part.

Alexander Winward Jr., 170 No. Main st., an aviation machinist's mate, first class, has completed 45 combat and patrol sorties in the Pacific. His Navy search-plane crew is credited with shooting down three planes, sinking four ships and damaging a fifth.

Decision Tonight On Rogers Brook Route

A final decision on the route of the Rogers brook drainage is expected tonight at the board of public works meeting.

Its decision will come after careful study of recommendations by Engineer Clinton Goodwin, hired to survey the job, and Engineer Ralph Preble.

Mr. Goodwin is also expected to report tonight on the Shawsheen Heights drainage problem which has been under survey.

another residence, also named; and it is indicated that pollution is entering the stream" from still a third residence, also named.

Contains Bacteria

"Samples of Clark's brook at the outlet", the report asserted, "show that it contains a considerable number of bacteria characteristic of sewage pollution".

To Demand Entrance

The board of health will almost certainly demand immediate entrance into the town sewage system by those three residents named in the letter. Dr. William V. Emmons said there is no doubt in his mind that such a move will be taken immediately.

"A strong letter should and will be sent any others available to the sewer", he asserted. "We have more power to push the project, now", he stated.

State Advice

The letter from the state department of public health told the selectmen that the local board of health "generally should require the owner or occupants of premises, on which there is a nuisance by reason of inadequate sewage disposal facilities, to connect to a public sewerage system where available".

The letter also told the selectmen that the local board of health "is within its province in requiring all residences adjacent to a public sewerage system to connect therewith even though a nuisance does not exist upon the property". The report also confirmed the fact that a sewerage system is available to receive liquid wastes in the area.

Hopes for Correction

Mrs. Hopkins expressed the hope, this week, that something will now be done to correct the situation. She did point out that her original complaint to the health board and request, through a letter to the Townsman, was aimed at getting as many sewer connections completed before the summer as possible.

"The odor is very bad" now, she asserted. The brook is running slowly, if at all, she explained, and refuse is plugging up the outlet at Andover st. where the brook goes under the road. She suggested that the pollution found by the state may be worse now, as the brook was running more swiftly when the water samples were taken.

Formal ribbon-cutting ceremonies opened the gala garden party sponsored by this group of youngsters, to benefit the Red Cross. Cutting the ribbon in the Carlton's Cheever cir. garden is Miss Kate Jenkins; with her is Miss Mary MacDonald. The children, left to right, are Johnny Butler, Mary-Barbara Carlton, Barbara Buchan, Ellen and Susan Kenney. Another youngster who helped, Betty Ann Critchley, is not in the picture.

Well, she did it again. It's four years in a row, now, that Mary-Barbara Carlton has promoted a real whopper of a "do" out in her Cheever circle back yard. And it's all for the Red Cross.

This year it was a garden party

— but it really was an art exhibit and a sale. Nice folks from all over town spent $25.08 and it went into Red Cross coffers.

Raised $75

That makes about $75 she's raised for the local organization but it looks as though there'd have to be another "promotion" next year to make up that $100 goal Mary-Barbara has mentally pledged.

Seems that Mary-Bob, as she's known to many friends and her folks, Mr. and Mrs. F. Tyler Carlton, ran a circus back in 1952. She was only seven then, but it went over well. In following years, she put on a sale and a pet show.

Not without help, of course. Each year, according to her mother, she has persuaded a group of youngsters to help with the project. Not the same ones each year, probably, but always there are enough to share the work and the fun.

Had Little Help

For the garden party, for instance, Mary-Bob had four young ladies and a lone lad working in her corner. They made a good team.

"They didn't have much help," Mrs. Carlton said.

"Her daddy blew up the balloons and Mrs. Buchan and I made the sandwiches."

FUN CARNIVAL AT VALE PLAYGROUND

George F. Snyder.

Children will be taken to the Vale site by bus shortly after 9 a.m. and returned after 4 p.m., he explained.

The change in schedule was decided this week after a conference of playground and health authorities, in view of the number of polio cases in the rest of the state.

Unwise to Mingle

"It would be unwise for the children of the Andover playgrounds to mingle with outside groups", they decided. It was pointed out that not a single case of polio has been reported in Andover and foremost authorities recommend that children refrain from mingling with groups of strange youngsters during a polio season.

Director Snyder has promised a full day of activities, with a most unusual fun carnival slated for the post-lunch period.

Morning Events

The morning program will include volley ball, softball, track and field events of all types.

The program: girls volley ball, 11 years and over, 10 to 10:45 and a boys softball game at the same time. Players will be included from all playgrounds. At 10, rubber ball race, under four years; also at 10, 25-yard dash for children under four; 10:15, candy kiss scramble, four, five and six; 30-yard dash, same age group; 10:25, balloon stepping contest, ages seven and eight; 10:40 shoe scramble contest, ages nine and 10.

Track and Field

At 11 o'clock, the following track and field events will take place:

Sack race, boys and girls, 11-12; cup race, girls 13-14; horse rider race, boys 13-14; blindfold race, girls 15 and over; football throwing contest, boys 15 and over; 40-yard dash, boys and girls 9-10; 50-yard dash, boys and girls 11-12; 60-yard dash, boys and girls 13-14 and 70-yard dash, boys and girls 15 and over; mothers guessing contest (beans in a jar).

Children will carry their own lunches to the festivities, Mr.
Snyder said. They will, however, be furnished milk by the playground officials.

1322 Youngsters Registered At The Playgrounds

Playground registration rose to 1322 this week, as the season began its final four weeks.

Director George F. Snyder announced the following registration, by playgrounds: Central, 440; Ballardvale, 340; Shawsheen, 238; Indian Ridge, 157; North District, 82 and West, 65.

Special activities at all the playgrounds last week found hundreds of youngsters taking part in everything from a pet show to a costume contest.

Red Cross Joins United Fund Drive

The Andover Red Cross chapter will be a member of the 1955 United Fund.

That significant decision was made by the Red Cross directors in late June and a satisfactory contract was signed with the Fund
July 25.

Chairman Leo F. Daley, Red Cross and Lawrence Postmaster Daniel Cahill, chairman of the Greater Lawrence United Fund, signed the contract of affiliation.

Mr. Daley pointed out that the Red Cross is allowed to keep its "loyal core" of workers here.

A special Red Cross committee had studied the matter of affiliation with the United Fund for some time. William S. Hughes was chairman with members John M.
Murray and Charles B. M. Whiteside. They reported that the sum-total of chapter experience throughout the country tended to favor joint operation in the fundraising area.

It was also learned, Mr. Daley said, that certain restrictions previously imposed by the National Red Cross had been modified.

public hearing and their own observations in making the suggestions to Volpe.

Industrial Area

"We realize that Andover's industrial area must expand", the letter stated, "and one of the logical areas would be Lowell junction. Therefore, we feel that an interchange and a service road at Lowell junction is a must".

The original state proposal, among other details, had called for an interchange at Dascomb rd. and dead-ending certain streets.

Selectman Stafford Lindsay signed the letter as secretary of the board.

Dept. Records Peak Use Of Water July 22

Heat-weary townsfolk needn't worry about their water supply.

Officials at the pumping station this week pointed out that the Haggett's pond level is "four to five feet higher now than previous low points of other years".

Thus, although the demands of thirsty citizens, burning lawns and dried-out crops called for vast amounts of water, there seems to be little danger of any serious water curtailment.

Peak Day

Friday, July 22, was the peak day for water use. The water department reported this week that 3.8 million gallons of water were used that day. Thursday afternoon, the department said folks were using water at the rate of 4066 gallons a minute. Saturday, another in a long stretch of hot days, found some 3.4 million gallons being used.

Although there appears to be no shortage of water, the board of public works ordered irrigation stopped for a while in the High Plain rd. and Greenwood rd. section last Thursday afternoon. The pressure was so decreased that a chicken farm was unable to operate automatic devices which keep water in the pans. Some 2000 chickens were threatened before the owner was able to lug enough water to them.

SCHOOL PLANS

possibly Aug. 2, followed by approval of the state commission, it was explained.

"I don't expect anything to get started there until the latter part of August", Mr. Erickson stated. He pointed out, however, that there should be no serious problem connected with carrying out construction work while school is in progress. Other than safety measures, he said, there should be no delay in the school's program.

Other Business

Other matters to come before the committee Tuesday night include the architects' report on the Shawsheen, Bradlee and Richardson schools and possible new school sites, the superintendent said.

It is also expected that several teacher appointments will be made and details concerned with school opening taken care of, he explained.

ALL-STAR TEAM WINS, 10-3, PLAYS TONIGHT

Andover Little League All-Stars won their first game, 10-3, over Haverhill's St. Joseph's All-Stars. The 14 youngsters will play tonight at 5:30 at the playstead against Newburyport.

The Tuesday night game was tight until the fifth, when seven runs crossed the plate for Andover. Damon was the winning pitcher.
